[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MAY 14.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, May 14.—In the House Pike introduced a bill to establish telegraphic communication between military posts and for the construction of a telegraph line to Puget Sound. Referred

Eckley, from the Committee on Public Lands, made an adverse report on the bill repealing the act which requires a land grant to railroads to transport the troops and Government property free. Tabled

After the transaction of some unimportant business the House proceeded to consider the bill admitting North Carolina, and four other Southern States.

Pruyn and Brooks spoke against, Paine and Bingham in favor of the bill.

Woodbridge moved to amend the bill by striking out the word "Alabama" wherever it occurs on the ground that a majority of the votes in that State were not voted in favor of the constitution as provided in the reconstruction law.

Benjamin moved a verbal amendment of the clause providing that the constitutions of said States shall never be changed to discriminate in favor or against any citizen or class of citizens, in reference to the right to vote

Bingham accepted the amendment.

Baum offered an amendment requiring the President to issue his proclamation within ten days after receiving official notification of the ratification of the constitutional amendment by the legislature of either of said States announcing the fact. Stevens accepted the amendment. Woodbridge's amendment striking out Alabama was rejected. Ayes 68, noes, 74.

In the House, Stevens closed the debate on the question of the admission of Southern States, and the bill passed by a vote of 108 to 35.

Butler, from the Committee on Appropriations reported the Indian appropriation bill, which was made the special order for Saturday.

Jencks, from the Committee on Retrenchment, reported a bill to regulate the civil service of the United States and promote its efficiency. He spoke an hour in support of the bill which was then postponed until June 3d.

Adjourned.

Washington News.

CHICAGO, May 14.—Specials to-night say that the Committee on Appropriations has finished its work on the Indian bill. The whole amount appropriated is about two millions and a quarter. The Secretary's estimate called for one million more.

The same committee will finish the Deficiency bill at their meeting to-morrow. The work of the session so far as appropriations are concerned is nearly done. If the session should be prolonged it will not be on account of the finances.

Different specials give different prognostications regarding the result of the Impeachment trial. The Chicago Journal's special says Henderson will vote against all the articles. Many think the vote will be scattering some voting for one article and some for another but not enough to convict. This, of course, is mere speculation.

The Post's special says the Board of Managers came into possession of such information this morning as justify them in calling an extra session of the Committee. This information is of a very startling character and shows it is said, what instigated certain Republican Senators to vote for the acquittal of the President. Witnesses have been summoned to appear immediately before the Committee. It is claimed that the evidence which will be elicited proves that two Senators have obtained large sums of money for going against the conviction of the President, and that they deliberately bartered away their votes. If these statements are supported as is claimed and anticipated they can be, there will be an exciting time.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The Impeachment Managers are in session to-day, and have summoned W. W. Norden of the President's household, to appear before them, and it is said other witnesses have been subpœnaed.

Senator Henderson has written a letter to a committee of the Missouri delegation in the lower house, declining to do as they ask him and declaring that he is resolved to stand by the obligations of his oath and honestly discharge his duty as given him to know it, trusting to a generous and upright people for the vindication of his course.

NEW YORK, May 14.—Charles K. Moss, writing from Washington to the American Anti Slavery Society, says General Grant has declared himself for universal suffrage and that he will maintain this which must be the ruling idea of his administration ... He also reports that General Grant is in favor of the conviction of the President.

Miscellaneous Foreign News.

NEW YORK, May 14.—The steamer Rising Star brings Panama dates to May 6th, and news from Australia to April 8th. The news gives details of the attempted assassination of Prince Alfred. A destructive fire occurred at Sidney. Holdsworth was the principal sufferer. His loss is $200,000.

The Central American Republics are tranquil. A malignant fever, embracing thousands of cases, prevails in Nicaragua. South American news is unimportant.

"Strong-Minded Women's" Convention

NEW YORK, May 13.—The American Equal Rights Association held its second anniversary to-day. Elizabeth Cady Stanton was President. Remarks were made by Susan B. Anthony, Henry Blackwell, Lucy Stone, Col. Higginson, Fred. Douglass and others, and letters were read from John Stuart Mill, Rev. Robert Collyer, of Chicago, and a daughter of Joshua R. Giddings. Resolutions were adopted favorable to the object of the Association, namely—Equality Suffrage.

Disastrous Fire.

FALL RIVER (Mass.) May 14.—The cotton mill known as White's Mill, was totally burned this morning. Loss, $120,000.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

PARIS, May 14.—Thiers yesterday made a public speech taking ground in favor of the protection of home industry.

MUNICH, May 14.—George Bancroft, American Minister here awaits the arrival of Prince Hohenlohe who is now attending the Zollverein Diet in Berlin. Bancroft will enter into negotiations for a national treaty with Bavaria, with the Prime Minister, immediately on the return of the latter from Munich.

ADJUTANT-GEN. THOMAS.—The President's counsel have rendered the Impeachment Managers and the country generally great service by putting Gen. Thomas on the stand, and allowing us to see what kind of a substitute the President had provided in place of Secretary Stanton. Gen. Thomas had had the reputation during the war of being a well-meaning officer—nothing more. But in putting him forward as a witness the President seems determined to add to the charge of having appointed Gen. Thomas in violation of the Constitution and the laws, the severer charge of having appointed an unmitigated blockhead, in violation of common sense. That any witness should swear minutely to a variety of facts, swear when cross-examined with equal minuteness that these facts were all untrue, and swear again on the redirect examination to their truth, is marvelous even to those who have long experience and familiarity with all sorts of witnesses. Yet it is such a person whom "public considerations of a high character" have impelled President Johnson to appoint to the difficult and responsible office of Secretary of War, in place of Mr. Stanton. Had no Tenure-of-Office law ever been passed, the forcible removal of Secretary Stanton to make room for Lorenzo Thomas would have justified impeachment if for no other cause than that, with nobody but Gen. Thomas in the office, there would have been a perpetual vacancy.—N. Y. Tribune

HOW DEMOCRATIC CAPITAL IS MANUFACTURED.—The Hartford Times has commenced another series of contortions over what is called "the attempt to force negro suffrage on Connecticut." And this reminds us of a little story illustrative of the adroitness and cunning of a Connecticut United States Senator:

Just about a year ago, while we were in the midst of the spring campaign, Senator Dixon and another New England Senator were conversing upon the subject of our pending election. Said Mr. Dixon, "I want to get something out of Sumner to-day that will help English at home, and I propose to make him say that he means to establish negro suffrage in Connecticut."

"Poh," replied the other, "you can't do that."

"But I will," said Dixon; "you see if I don't."

A few moments afterward Mr. Dixon got the floor and commenced a speech. He had laid out the ground shrewdly and the trap was set with the Senator's cunning. A running debate shortly opened between himself and Sumner, and in the course of it the trap was sprung, Mr. Sumner making some sort of an answer that just suited Mr. Dixon's ear. The speech closed suddenly, and Mr. Dixon went to the telegraph office. Before the Senate adjourned, he returned to the New England Senator with whom he had had the conversation, and showed him a dispatch from Hartford, stating that Senator Sumner's announcement that he was in favor of forcing negro suffrage in Connecticut was already bulletined in front of the Times office.—Hartford Post

COME ON.—Burlingame, at his Embassy fete, remarked that four hundred millions of Chinese were rapping at the National door for admission. Haight, by presiding, consented to their coming in. As soon as they are recognized by this Government, on Haight's recommendation, our courts can commence the work of naturalization. The Johns will make healthy Democratic voters.—Cal. paper.

The New York Independent on Chief Justice Chase

From the New York Independent

A spectator in Washington just now finds that three personages are jointly challenging and bewildering the public attention. First the Chief Justice of the United States; second the President of the High Court of Impeachment; and third, the Hon. Salmon P. Chase.

If the American people at Judge Taney's death could have foreseen that his successor (whoever he might be) would be called to preside over a trial for the impeachment of the President of the United States such as is now going forward, and over the trial of the President of the Southern Confederacy, such as will go forward next month they would have urged upon President Lincoln still more earnestly than they did the appointment of Mr. Chase as the one man who, above all others, was most signally fitted for the high post and its great duties. But, though Mr Chase took his supreme seat amid the plaudits of half a nation, yet, ever since he was gowned, there has been an impression on the public mind that he would rather be off the bench than on it.

It is remarked of Mr. Chase very frequently than of any other statesman, that he is ambitious for the Presidency. Of course it is idle to murmur at a great and good man for no better reason than because he wants to be President. "He that desireth the office of a bishop desireth a good thing." If the church can sanction any ambition for a bishopric, surely the State can sanction an ambition for the Presidency. Nevertheless "a man of great aspirations ought to beware of "the last infirmity of noble mind." A hope of the Presidency is like a gossamer in the air, they who run too pantingly after it always blow it away with his own breath.

Of Mr. Chase's desire for the Presidency (whatever it may always have been,) we have no comment to make except to say that during our long acquaintance with him, we never once heard him utter a word or drop a hint which could be construed as the expression of such a desire. If others among his admirers can give a different testimony, this, at least, is all that we ourselves can give. If Mr. Chase has kept a Presidential hope within his breast, he has carried it like a hid treasure, which he may have exhibited to other friends, but which he never once laid before our own eyes.

Nor have we any voice to lend to the clamor against Mr. Chase for his rulings during the present trial. Mr. Sumner, the other day, made an able argument—one of the most masterly of his unmost speeches—to prove from Parliamentary precedents that the Chief Justice, in presiding over the Senate as a court of Impeachment, is not entitled to any vote, even in case of a tie. Mr. Chase, on the other hand, believes that as he takes the place of the Vice President of the United States, who is President of the Senate, and who has a casting vote, he himself as Chief Justice shall in like manner have a casting vote, a view which, though it may not be in accordance and with the precedents, is nevertheless in accordance with good sense. But the question whether the one or the other of these views is correct, or whether Mr. Chase, during the trial, shall be addressed as "Mr. Chief Justice" or as "Mr. President," seems to us of far less practical importance than the learned lawyers would have the world regard it.

For years past we have earnestly and often advocated Mr. Chase's nomination to the Presidency. This advocacy now ends. Without crediting the fables of the scandal mongers who say that Mr. Chase has abandoned the party of which he was the chief ornament, and has practically joined the Democracy, we are nevertheless constrained to say that the Republican party can no longer, with propriety, look to Mr. Chase to be one of its leaders, and least of all to be its chief. A short time ago we thought that the greatest gift which this journal could offer to the coming Chicago Convention was Mr. Chase's illustrious name. We now have reason to believe that Mr. Chase would not accept the Republican nomination, even if it were tendered. We have equal reason to believe, also, that he would accept the Democratic nomination if it would be tendered on a platform not inconsistent with his well known views of negro suffrage. No one who knows the man will expect him ever to change, modify, or compromise his life long and inerad cable convictions in favor of liberty, justice and political equality. Solemnly and earnestly he holds now as he has held always, to the equal civil and political rights of all American citizens, without distinction of color, and let us add also without distinction of sex. Nor have we any doubt that he will remain, in his own judgment, secretly true to those great and high convictions during the rest of his life.

But, as the fact is now evident that Mr. Chase no longer links his political future with the Republican party, we feel that in the conduct of a journal which has long been conspicuously known as one of his unvarying supporters, we have no right any longer to solicit the Republican party to unfurl at their head the banner of his name.

Of course these remarks are not designed to state the position, or indicate the views or hint the purposes of Mr. Chase—an office which we have neither authority, nor knowledge, nor wish, nor right to assume, but solely for the sake of honorably informing the Republican party that this journal unequivocally recalls its long maintained nomination of Mr. Chase for the Presidency.

If at this late day it were not wholly useless to substitute another name, it might be the name of Charles Sumner or Schuyler Colfax, or Ben Wade or General Butler. But, of course, the Chicago Convention will go pell mell for General Grant. Nevertheless, we shall go on dreaming our day dream of the happy day when only a great statesman shall be eligible to preside over the great republic.

The Alta thus appropriately comments on the hifalutin speech of ex Attorney General Stanbery in defence of the President:

Ex-Attorney General Stanbery, in his closing argument for the President, appears to have perorated in a somewhat florid style, verging in fact on that dubious line which separates the sublime from the ridiculous. He adjures the Senators that if the doom of Andrew Johnson is sealed, they must pronounce his sentence, not in the Senate Chamber, whose walls still echo to the patriotic words which Senator Johnson uttered in defense of the Constitution and the Union. No, not here, etc., etc. but take him down into the subterranean chamber of the Capitol, and there, where the light of day never comes, etc., etc., chop his head off, or words to that effect. If the next speaker on the part of the prosecution is of a poetical turn of mind, he can put a very different aspect on the picture by saying that Mr. Johnson's last speech in the Senate Chamber was made on the famous 4th of March, 1865, when he was sworn in as Vice President of the United States, and if any echo of that speech are hanging about the walls of the Chamber, the least said about them the better. As for the figure of taking the luckless President down into the coal holes, underground, and chopping his head off, that has an element of the grotesque about it which is as Johnsonian as anything our respected President ever said. It is simply comical.

DEAN HOWLS.—Henry Clay Dean, of Iowa, has been uttering a most lugubrious howl because a "nigger" has recovered damages at law for the rejection of his vote by certain inspectors of election. It seems that this litigious darkey was so nearly white that it required an "expert" to detect the fatal taint of African blood in him. Nevertheless the acute inspectors, though unaided by the evidence of a dusky skin, kinky hair, or an obtrusive shin bone, decided to exclude the vote of the applicant on the ground that he had a modicum of negro blood subtly concealed and disguised about his person. His mother was a white woman, and his father was more than half white. He himself was only to be distinguished from a "white man" by tests more discriminating than ocular observation. Nevertheless he was decided to be a "nigger," and his vote was ruled out. This being done, he had the presumption to bring his action for damages, in which he was successful. The consequence was that the Iowa Democracy were indignant, and Mr. Clay Dean as a representative Iowa Democrat, felt it his duty to howl.

Col. W. G. Moore is Private Secretary to Andrew Johnson. His principal duties are to translate the President's language into presentable vernacular. In other words, Moore is chief clarifier of the President's English, as appears from the testimony given before the Impeachment Court.

ORIGIN OF THE KUK-KLUX KLAN.—The Richmond Whig has an article giving a ... history of the Kuk-Klux Klan, which ... it describes as a "political white league, which seems simultaneously to have found a foothold in every State of the South." The Whig says its outlandish name is not of American origin nor the whim of an ingenious wag, but, like the order, originated in China among the foreign merchants engaged in ... ... in that empire, and was introduced into the United States by Humphrey Marshall, on his return from that country, where he became a member. On his return, he and some friends met and organized the Order in room No. 54 of Brown's Hotel," not ... ing of its being afterward changed into an organization to control the politics of the South. In adapting the organization to political purposes there had to be attached to it ... features not of the same secret character as its original initiatory rites. These can be kept secret or disclosed, as policy may dictate. For instance, no Lang (... now called Klan) can have over 2,500 members, over which there is a Chief, who is assisted by a deputy, who, in case of his absence, death or resignation, takes his place. For every 500 members there is a sub-officer; for every 100 a Captain, for every 50 a Lieutenant; and for every 50 a Sergeant. The Chief receives his orders from the organization, and the subalterns from him. All orders have to be strictly obeyed, for the infliction of the ... punishment follows. The Whig claims for the Order, in three wards of Richmond a membership of over 4,000, with 700 applicants waiting admission ... two wards not heard from. Only able-bodied white men are received into the order, and candidates are rejected if not of manly stature.

BLACK REPUBLICAN "A ..."—The New York World is taking up the cudgels in defense of a secret organization of murderers known as the Kuklux Klan, and scolds the Tribune for its "aspersions upon the new society." It institutes a comparison between this "new society" and the old Know Nothing fraternity, which, with all its faults and follies, never inaugurated a system of ... by a resort to arson and assassination, so far as we are aware. The World intimates that this "new society" is in a measure justified and rendered necessary as a measure of self-protection on the part of the oppressed people of the South. "Secret political societies," says this leading representative of Democratic opinion, "are the natural resort of a people trampled under the iron heels of a ... The great uprising in Europe in 1848 was the work of secret societies. If the people of the South have adopted the method of Mazzini and other organizers, it is because, like them, they are excluded from every legitimate sphere of political action." This ... a cool apology for assassination, when sound Democrats are the assassins, and persons of obnoxious political sentiments are the victims.

REMARKABLE DISCOVERY IN WESTERN AFRICA.—What a wonderful continent is Africa, and how mysterious, notwithstanding all the researches from Mungo Park down to Livingstone and others! Recently, within a few days travel of Monrovia, a tribe of Mohammedans has been discovered ... St. Paul's River. They are far advanced in civilization and can read and write the Arabic language. They have the Coran in manuscript, and gladly received copies of the Gospel of St. John—Van Dyck's translation, such as has been recently published by the British and American Bible Societies. What a striking comment this is on the useful efforts of our great American Bible Society! This is certainly a very remarkable set of native Africans. They express a strong desire to have a school established among them to teach the English language.

In a western village a charming, well-preserved widow had been courted and won by a physician. She has children; among them a cripple boy, who had been petted, and if not spoiled, certainly allowed very great "freedom in debate." The wedding day was approaching, and it was time the children should know that they ... a new father. Calling the cripple boy, she said:

"George, I am going to do something before long that I would like to talk about with you."

"Well, ma, what is it?"

"I am intending to marry Dr. Jones in a few days, and—"

"Bully for you, ma! Does Dr. Jones know it?"

Ma caught her breath, but failed to articulate a response.

The bridge now in process of erection over the Mississippi at St. Louis, involves an experiment hitherto untried. The central span is to be 515 feet between the abutments, and the other two 497 feet respectively. No span of 500 feet now exists in the world. Steel is to be largely used in the structure.

THE GREAT MOTHER.—In a "talk" which some British officers recently had with the Canadian Indians, the former, for lack of "Great Father," were obliged to tell them of their "Great Mother," at every mention of which name, the natives of the forest are said to ... ously cried, "Umph! squaw!" To this ... of the little Victoria being called the "great mother!"

Popular 'Democratic' Writers

In the celebrated pamphlet on the seizure of the Falkland Islands by the Spaniards which was published by Johnson in 1771 that great writer took occasion to draw in his [illegible] style a description of Junius and his admirers Of the latter he said "They admire him (Junius) for virtues like their own, for contempt of order and violence of outrage, for rage of defamation and audacity of falsehood. They feel no niceties of composition or dexterities of sophistry their faculties are better proportioned to the bawl of Beckes, or barbarity of Beckford but they are told that Junius is on their side, and they are therefore sure that Junius is infallible. Those who know not whether he would lead them, resolve to follow him and those who cannot find his meaning hope he means rebellion."

We have quoted this because it is pertinent to our purpose in speaking of the principal writers of the Democracy and their admirers. It has often been remarked that the cultivated literature of the country is all against that party. It is equally observable that all the specimens of vile journalism with which the country abounds are in the interest of the Democracy The style of Brick Pomeroy and the New York Day Book suits the [illegible] of that party much better than anything less violent less illiterate and less [illegible] could do. Like those whom Johnson [illegible] they feel no niceties of composition nor dexterities of sophistry. They appreciate the vulgar tirades of the Brick Pomeroy school, and their faculties are better proportioned to the bawl about nigger equality than to moderate and intelligent discussion of political principles

Will it be said that injustice is done to the [illegible] by [illegible] like these? On what ground then can any one account for the coincidence that the "Democratic" journals having the widest circulation are invariably and habitually the most violent and indecent in tone and [illegible]? If there were no market for this [illegible] it would not be furnished If the filthy and [illegible] publications did not suit the "Democratic" taste, their circulation would not be [illegible] by the hundred thousand and [illegible] why the La Crosse Democrat has a circulation exceeding that of any other six "Democratic" papers in the country, [illegible] the fact that it is six times more [illegible] than any of its rivals In all parts of the country it finds those to whom the vile swill which is poured out through its columns is [illegible] food, and many ambitious editors of the party are striving with all their might to imitate its indecency as the only passport to the favor of the "Democratic" masses It affords [illegible] thoughts to reflect that these things are [illegible] Such observations show the [illegible] of the opposition which the Union party have to meet, they reveal to us the [illegible] of the [illegible] in which we are engaged [illegible] party whose most popular [illegible] of the Brick Pomeroy style, nothing can be [illegible] but the most persistent opposition to every measure which is calculated to secure impartial justice to all men, and to [illegible] the [illegible] of the Government on a [illegible]

The 'Organ' Finds a Mare's Nest

The [illegible] has struck a new theme It [illegible] what becomes of the $90,000 annually [illegible] in this county by taxation We have not the official figures at hand, but we can [illegible] that paper in general terms that about $30,000 of this amount is paid into the [illegible] that about $10,000 of it is paid [illegible] the County Hospital, which institution is [illegible] the supervision of one of the [illegible] that during the last three years [illegible] has been erected at a cost, [illegible] the grounds, of about $90,000 [illegible] have managed the city government they have so manipulated [illegible] that all the criminal business [illegible] at the expense of the county in [illegible] of the city, [illegible] a large cost upon the county [illegible] which did not formerly [illegible] The whole people are fully aware of these things, and the attempt of the organ of [illegible] to make capital for its party out of the [illegible] is about the weakest of its weak efforts. We shall probably take [illegible] shortly to ask the 'organ' some questions about the city government and it would do well to be getting ready to answer them

Lord Brougham, whose death was announced two or three days since, was one of the most celebrated of the second class of English orators and statesmen. [illegible] one of the most ancient in Westmoreland, England, and Brougham Castle [illegible] older than the days of King John [illegible] was born in Edinburgh in 1778, and at the time of his death was within a few [illegible] of ninety [illegible] of age An able critic [illegible] "Eager, restless, grasping after information of every kind, he has brought into his speeches a [illegible] range of collateral thought than any of our orators except Burke" He became Lord Chancellor of England in 1830 and retained the [illegible] about four years The range of his learning was prodigious. He was a hard literary worker almost to the close of his life.

The New York World has the [illegible] remark that "there is evidence that the negroes in various parts of the South are abandoning the Radicals" If we are to believe the highest Democratic authorities, the Southern negroes will soon be voting the Democratic ticket en masse When this [illegible] result which the New York World and Oregon Herald expects will speedily occur —how will it be about the South being under negro domination?

A letter from Empire City (Coos county) states that a schooner of one hundred tons is building there for the California trade The shipping list of that place shows quite a large number of regular arrivals and departures. The Union party will certainly carry Coos county by a good majority.

What will They Do?

In case of the acquittal of the President by the votes of certain Union Senators who are counted in his favor it becomes interesting to inquire what course those Senators will take hereafter in the case of Secretary Stanton We know what they have already done in this matter —we know that they voted for the passage of the civil tenure act that they declared last December that the President had no right to remove the Secretary and that he should go back into the office that on his second removal they solemnly declared in their official capacity and on their oaths as Senators that the President by this act had violated the Constitution and laws of the United States It is now stated that they think or at least intend to act, [illegible] "recently. If Johnson shall be acquitted, of course the controversy in regard to the occupancy of the War Office will be renewed What course will these Senators take To be consistent with what they did last winter they must declare for his retention to be consistent with their votes on impeachment they must declare for his expulsion In either case they must stultify themselves in the most humiliating manner The Senator who pursues a course so devious, so inconsistent so contradictory; who first does that which is sure to lead to a conflict of authority between the Executive and the Legislature and causes the Executive to be impeached and who when the House impeaches abandons the whole ground and declares the Executive in the right in the entire controversy who confesses that in voting for the act of legislation which has brought about this trial he was trifling with his grave duties or still worse, doing that which he knew to be unconstitutional and wrong inasmuch as he was voting to deprive the President of a power which the Constitution secures to him such Senator may as well prepare for the condemnation of men of all parties, and for the political oblivion which will surely engulph him We denounce no Senator for his vote on impeachment He is acting upon his oath and must be faithful to its obligations But where is the man of any party who will not utterly condemn the action of Senators in having voted for the tenure of office law and declared that it applied to the Secretary of War while they are now forced to decide on their oaths that the law has no such application?

The San Francisco Times says of the platform lately constructed by the Democratic party of California "Of the whole string of resolutions there is but one which has any positive character or which is worth any consideration and that is the resolution declaring that Democrats will never submit to be governed by negroes nor by those claiming to be elected by negro suffrage This, if it means anything, means that the Alsatian braving Democracy of California will refuse to allow the admission to seats in Congress of the representatives of our erring sisters—the Southern States that they will resist vi et armis, even unto the death, if need be We have heard this kind of talk before The same gentlemen were going to resist any attempt to coerce the South, they were going to resist the draft they were going to resist any effort to immure one of their number in a Federal Bastile Nevertheless, the South was coerced, the draft was enforced, and sundry loud mouthed traitors were incarcerated in Federal forts This kind of talk has lost all the little force it ever had The lion hearted Democracy have been so often going to do it, and have so often failed to even make a show of doing it, that their threats of armed resistance frighten nobody—not even themselves If they were to threaten to rob hen roosts or to mob solitary Chinamen or 'niggers,' perhaps it might be well to increase the police force, but when they threaten to resist the authority of the Government of the United States it is proof positive that they have not the slightest idea of carrying out their threats

It is worthy of remark that the negro seems to look down upon the Chinaman with about as much contempt and illiberality as the Democrat exhibits in looking down upon the negro If the negro had a chance he would probably treat the Chinese with as much injustice as the Democrat manifests toward the African We have frequently regretted to see indications of this illiberal, narrow spirit in colored men We hope they will be speedily educated up to a higher plane and that the same improvement may, in course of time, be witnessed in Democrats Equal and exact justice to all men is the true motto When the Golden Rule was given to mankind it was not restricted in its operations to white men alone As it is applicable to so it should be practiced by, all men without distinction of race or color

Progress of the Campaign

EUGENE CITY, May 10

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Great good is being done by the earnest efforts of Union men in the present canvass Immediately after the nominations of Messrs Smith and Logan there were many Union men who doubted that Mr Logan would be elected Mr. Smith was then supposed to be a man of extraordinary ability, and his connection with the church a power that could not be met But after the canvass had been fairly begun and the two champions had measured swords it was found that Mr Smith was a man of inferior ability and that his position in the church was a vapor surrounding a heart prone to intentional misrepresentation On the contrary, Mr Logan in every respect has come fully up to the expectations of his most zealous friends hence the tide of popularity turned in his favor I was surprised to find the tide so strong in Portland and all along from that city to this I found that Mr Logan was daily growing stronger His election is a foregone conclusion If his popularity continues to grow at the same rate till the election day as it has during the past two weeks he will be elected by eight hundred majority

As I came through the Soap Creek and the Long Tom country I expected to find the Democracy swarming and the atmosphere filled with Democratic odor I was disappointed No Democrat was to be seen and the air was pure Arriving at Monroe I learned the cause Gov Woods had been there the day before and had produced the same effect by his speech that a thunder storm does in a country where bad air and reptiles abound

The Democracy had retreated to the same holes they occupied during the war, and from which they so gloriously fought the Southern rebels We all recollect, when anything made them feel good and brave, they would stick their heads out of their holes and discharge at the Union ranks—not shot and shell, the fighting traitors were doing that—but such missiles as, "Constitution" "peace" "constitution" "don't enlist" "constitution" "Bull Run" "constitution" "I tell you so" "constitution" "nigger" "constitution" "war a failure" "constitution" "Johnson's drunk" "constitution" "veto, veto" "constitution, hurrah for Johnson" "constitution" "nigger" but at the sight of our flag they would again retreat. Now on next election day they will be again driven into the same holes and the people will cover the mouth of the one occupied by Rev Mr Smith with such a stone, that none but devils will seek to roll away BILLOW

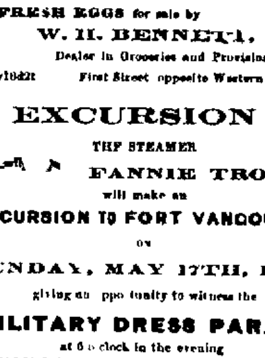
WATER



WHEEL!

THESE WHEELS UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world have been fully tested on this coast many being in use at this date driving all kinds of machinery Saw Mills Flour Mills Quartz Mills Woolen Factories &c &c

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement and copy of the James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited Any person or persons making using constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties Parties interested will take notice that I shall prosecute all infringements to the utmost extent of the law

That all may know I mean what I say and am not playing 'bluff' I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States

WASHINGTON D C, April 17 1868

MR. A MYERS In accordance with your request, we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel's patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does, and in this he clearly infringes The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition to those used by Leffel does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all He has no right to use [illegible] tiers of buckets whether alone or with [illegible] any other number of tiers added It is a clear infringement Respectfully yours

DODGE & MUNN

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement of our late patents whether it is the maker user buyer or seller Every infringement whether on claims are one or all in part will be prosecuted

To the Public.

FROM this date the undersigned retires from the Life Insurance business This step is taken in view of the fact that while the companies can all [illegible] on a financial basis [illegible] competition for the business [illegible] the business of life insurance as a proof of [illegible] moral sensibility in [illegible] (where practised) the competition for business [illegible] carried on by agents of some companies in the spirit of fair and honest competition is one of their [illegible] of the working of the company they represent as well as of the business in general, and therefore [illegible] advance the merits of their company by honest facts [illegible] slanders and personal attacks of those [illegible] in procuring business for themselves

The time was when Agents of rival Companies met together in friendship as a Board of Life Underwriters and consulted upon matters of mutual interest to [illegible] advantage But that day is past on the Pacific Coast! It has given place to a [illegible] style of competition, forcing those who have pursued a different course to [illegible] retire from the business I choose the latter

Thankful for a generous confidence in the business [illegible] those contemplating Life Insurance I heartily recommend them to try the Manhattan of New York It is a Company managed with unrivalled economy and the General Agents Messrs Landers & Co, as well as the Agent for Oregon C P Ferry Esq are gentlemen worthy of the highest confidence

Trusting those who have been in the habit of slandering and vilifying for my fault [illegible] in nursing their venom, I predict that they will realize the effect of the course they pursue in the general distrust of their companies and agents Such cannot fail to be the effect of the course followed and such I predict will be the result

OF THE

Mechanics' Institute,

SAN FRANCISCO

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE MECHANICS' Institute hereby give notice that the Sixth Industrial Exhibition of that Association will be held some time in August next in a building to be erected for the purpose in Union Square in this city Every preparation will be made to make the immediate exhibit as and [illegible] with a view to make the Exhibition profitable instructive and pleasant to all parties

[illegible] three years which have intervened since the holding of the last Exhibition in this city the manufacturing, mechanical scientific and useful and ornamental arts have made rapid progress in this coast and it is believed that the proposed Exhibition will exceed any that has ever been held on the Pacific Coast

The plan of building to be erected which has been adopted by the Board of Directors it is believed will prove to be the best adapted both for display and convenience of the public of any building ever erected in the State The building will be perfectly water tight being covered with a suitable roof so that no damage from the elements can be anticipated

All parties who are interested in any of the branches of Manufactures Mechanics or the Arts and Sciences are invited to contribute to the proposed Exhibition and to share in the public benefit and consequent profit which always attends such enterprises Suitable premiums will be offered and the specific date of opening the Exhibition will be published at an early future time

VANCOUVER ITEMS.—We clip the subjoined items from the Vancouver Register. The troops at this post were paid off on Wednesday, in consequence of which business is pretty brisk with hotels, and saloons. A few days and the boys will have exhausted their superfluous ash the shopkeepers doffed their pleasant smiles and things as [illegible] wonted evenness. A petition, signed by about three hundred citizens, will be forwarded to-day to Acting Governor E. L. Smith, asking to have the sentence of Michael Welch commuted to imprisonment for life. Since the principal witness for the prosecution [illegible] think it best to fly the country is a suspicious circumstance. We would be pleased to see the prayer of the petitioners granted. In pursuance of a notice published in last week's Register, from Mr. L. T. Manlahy, School Superintendent for Clarke County, there will be a meeting at the District School House, this (Friday) evening to institute measures for the organization of a teachers' association for this county. A special adjourned [illegible] Court will commence here on Monday, May 25th. The County Commissioners' court has been [illegible] for the past ten days, and is still in [illegible] employed. L. M. Hidden has been awarded the [illegible] for digging 860 rods of ditch, at ninety-three cents per rod, by the Vancouver Water Works Co. [illegible] we understand, are already constructed. ... As Company "D," 1st U. S. Cavalry, were marching [illegible] the steamer Cascade, this (Friday) morning, the lowering bridge which extends from the wharf to the lower deck of the steamer, and which is suspended by chains, broke from its fastenings under the vibratory [illegible] by the regular step of the soldiers, precipitating four men into the river. Happily, no worse [illegible] than an unexpected ducking and a pretty bad "scare" resulted from what might have been a serious [illegible].

OREGON BIBLE SOCIETY.—The sixteenth Annual Meeting of the Oregon Bible Society, Auxiliary to the American Bible Society, was held in this city on Wednesday, the [illegible]. The President, Rev. David Leslie, being absent, the meeting was presided over by Rev. E. Walker, [illegible] D. W. Williams. The session was opened with prayer by Rev. G. C. Chandler. During the meeting [illegible] adopted instructing the Executive Committee to take measures to procure a suitable location [illegible]. The spot [illegible] proceedings [illegible] are the purchase of a lot and the erection of a [illegible]. The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: President, Rev. David Leslie of Salem; [illegible] Rev. E. Walker of Forest Grove; Secretary and Depositarian, Geo. Abernethy of Portland; Ex[illegible] Rev. G. H. Atkinson, O. B. Frambes, E. Weeks, J. N. Dolph, and J. D. Holman, all of Portland. The next annual meeting will be held at Salem on the second Wednesday of May, 1869. In the [illegible] Congregational Church, Rev. P. S. Knight delivered the annual sermon. The attendance upon the Bible Society's meeting was not large, but a good deal of interest was manifested and confident hopes [illegible] the ultimate [illegible] and usefulness of the Society.

RATES OF FREIGHT FROM UMATILLA.—The following report [illegible], from John R. Foster & Co., Umatilla, came too late for a place in our commercial report, and we insert it here:

"During the past week, ending May 12th, freights have been going out at the following rates, with an abundance of transportation on hand:

Horse and mule teams to Owyhee, in bars	7½c
Ox [illegible]	7c
Horse and mule, to Idaho City, $16 per ox., dust,	6½c
[illegible] Centerville & Placerville,	6½c
Ox teams, as above	6c
Ox, horse and mule, to Boise City, I. T., at 7bc	3½c
Ox, horse and mule, to Shasta, dust	4c
Ox, horse and mule, to Auburn and Baker City, dust at current rates	3c
Ox, horse and mule, to Umatilla & La Grande, dust at current rates	2½c

Pack trains, if wished, can be had at ½c advance on mule teams. We think that freights will hold steady at present rates during the month.

A CRIPPLED SOLDIER.—One of the most mournful sights we have witnessed for many a day was that of a crippled [illegible] who was stumping about the streets, yesterday, with both legs gone near the knees. Each stump of a leg was [illegible] at the knee with a stout leathern pad [illegible] at every swing of the body upon his short, stumpy crutches. His locomotion was ex[illegible] painful. How or when he lost [illegible] we did not learn; but we presume him to be one of those [illegible] left to the country by the late Democratic [illegible], and that, as he must be totally unfitted for [illegible], he is one of those pitiable creat[illegible] by Young, who "[illegible] half their limbs in battle lopped away, [illegible] bitter bread [illegible] realms their valor saved."

[illegible].—The casting of an immense wheel for [illegible] saw mill was completed yesterday at [illegible] Iron Works. The monstrous piece weighs [illegible] tons and measures fourteen feet in diameter. A portion of the side of the moulding house will have to be removed to get the wheel out. The works has a regular [illegible] of orders for machinery, waiting, and an in[illegible] force of workmen has become necessary. We [illegible] that a similar state of things exists at the [illegible] Iron Works and at the works of Monnastes & [illegible]. There never was half such a demand for home-made machinery in Portland.

FIRE AT THE CIRCUS.—During the performance at the [illegible] Western Circus at Oregon City, Thursday evening, some of the curtains in the dressing room were set on fire [illegible] candle, and almost instantly the whole space within [illegible] was brilliantly lighted up, and the audience [illegible] a stampede for outside chances. The curtains [illegible] pulled down, the fire extinguished and the [illegible] came back. Many of those who left comfortable [illegible] were unable to find them when they returned, oth[illegible] having taken po[illegible]. The scramble [illegible] to have been indescribable.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—There will be two sales of real estate at auction, to-day, by Mr. A. B. Richardson. The first will be a house and lot on the corner of Sixth and [illegible] on which stands a two story house with [illegible]. Also, lot 8 in same block on which stands [illegible] cottage with five rooms. Two or three [illegible] lots in same block are also to be sold. Sale to [illegible] at 10 o'clock A. M., at Mr. Richardson's [illegible]. The [illegible] sale will be of lots in Wm. [illegible] the [illegible] House. Sale to be on the [illegible] at 11 o'clock.

[illegible] RUNAWAY.—Yesterday morning Mr. A. H. [illegible] horse standing, hitched to a butcher's cart, in front of his shop at the junction of A and North [illegible]. The horse had been left standing but a [illegible] he started and ran down the street to B, [illegible] the corner of which, the cart struck the curb [illegible] over, throwing the horse heavily [illegible]. Mr. Johnson and others hastened to the [illegible] the harness off, but by this time the horse was dead. He was a favorite horse, having been kept for a [illegible] years as a family horse.

OREGON PRODUCE.—Arrived, yesterday, per steamer [illegible], 1 ton pig iron, 79 hf bbls dried apples, 33 boxes eggs, 2 bales furs, 1 bale wool socks, 3 bales woolen goods, 171 quarter bacon, 107 bags wheat, 5 cases and 8 [illegible] lard, 35 [illegible] apples, 3 cases butter, 7 cases, 25 pigs and 8 bales mdse. Per Wenat, 34 bags wheat, 173 sacks oats, 50 boxes apples, 40 gunnies potatoes. Per Alert, 925 gunnies wheat, 235 qr sacks flour, 41 cases [illegible], 72 hf bbls lard, 14 boxes mdse.

[illegible].—About 7 o'clock last evening, a fire alarm [illegible] from a blaze on the rear roof of the What Cheer House. It is supposed the fire came from a [illegible]. At the time of discovery the shingles on the roof next to Mr. Wm. Beck's house, were ablaze, but a few buckets of water from the house-top reservoirs, [illegible] the flames, before the engines were in position.

[illegible] TO-DAY.—Those who wish to accompany [illegible] to-day, must be on hand promptly at [illegible] o'clock, as the boat will not wait a moment after [illegible]. The little folks are expected to have a happy [illegible] having made the most complete [illegible] for games and [illegible] of va[illegible].

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, JUDGE.—In this court, [illegible] day, James Lonaghan was admitted to citizenship. In the matter of James Burk, bankrupt, upon the petition of final discharge, demurrer to objections to discharge [illegible] creditors have until Monday next to file [illegible] objections.

[illegible] FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The bark Fellinburg [illegible] her cargo yesterday and will be towed to Astoria [illegible] by the Okanagan. She takes, for San Francisco, 10,000 qr sks flour, 125 bags wheat, 800 sks oats, [illegible] bbls dried apples, 30 hlf bbls lard and 2,000 feet [illegible].

[illegible].—A campmeeting is in progress at San[illegible], near White's Landing. We notice that the [illegible] Ranger is up for a trip to the Landing, on Sunday, [illegible] the foot of Morrison Street at ten o'clock [illegible], returning after the close of the afternoon [illegible].

[illegible] MEETING AT OREGON CITY.—We learn that the [illegible] meeting at Oregon City Thursday evening, was [illegible] attended, many having come in from [illegible]. The meeting was addressed by Judge Stout, [illegible] Mitchell and others.

[illegible] TO DOCK LARGER.—We learn that the P. T. Co. will [illegible] begin the construction of extensive additions to their wareh[illegible] and wharf at Oregon City. The want of room during the late rush of freight was felt as a serious [illegible]venience.

[illegible] TO VANCOUVER.—The steamer Fannie Troup [illegible] passengers from Portland to Vancouver, to-[illegible] leaving Portland at 2 P. M. and returning after [illegible] will occur at 5 o'clock P. M. [illegible] the trip, one dollar. See advertisement.

QUARTERLY MEETING.—Rev. J. F. Devore, Presiding Elder of the Portland District, will hold a quarterly [illegible] at the M. E. Church, East Portland, commencing one week from to day and continuing through Sunday.

LECTURE.—Rev. Father Buchard, S. J., will lecture at [illegible] seven o'clock, Sunday evening, at the Catholic church. Subject: "The Catholic rule of faith the source of security in life and death."

THE [illegible] OCCIDENT.—This bark cleared at San Francisco on Thursday, and is probably now at sea, en route for this port.

SAILING POSTPONED.—The sailing of the John L. Stephens for Portland, has been postponed till Tuesday, the 19th.

SPIRITUALISTIC.—Mr. Cleveland, trance lecturer, will deliver a discourse on Sunday evening at Oro Fino Hall at 8 o'clock. Subject—"Has Christianity civilized the world?"

ARRIVED.—The steamer Continental, from this port arrived at San Francisco, yesterday. The Oriflamme arrived from Sitka.

DEPARTURE OF TROOPS.—A number of troops left Fort Vancouver yesterday morning, by the steamer Charotes, for Ft. Lapwai.

FOR VICTORIA.—The steamship Active, R. B. Floyd, commander, sailed at [illegible] o'clock last evening, for Victoria.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—Hon. Geo. E. Cole addressed the Democracy at Oro Fino Hall last evening.

ARRIVED.—The bark Almatia, Capt. Richardson, arrived last evening at Nor[illegible] o'clock.

NEW GOODS—SENSATION AMONG THE LADIES.—Messrs. Clarke, Henderson & Cook are receiving and opening a very large and varied stock of ladies' dress goods, silk cosques and fancy goods in general, just purchased in San Francisco by Mr. Clarke and to which they invite the special attention of the ladies of Portland. No such display of rich, handsome and fashionable goods has ever been opened in this city.

NOVEL AND USEFUL.—Messrs. R. D. White & Co., No. 131 First street, have just received an invoice of Boots with wire-quilted bottoms. For elasticity, neatness, comfort and durability they are said to excel anything in the boot line yet extant.

TO THOSE IN WANT OF PHOTOGRAPHS, we would say that now is a first rate time to visit Buchtel's Gallery, where the latest and finest styles may be had. J. H. Montgomery, operator.

Ladies' Relief Society of Portland.—

In order that this Society be more widely known, the Ladies have thought best to publish, by request, its object, officers, &c., so that any needing assistance may know whom to apply to. It has now been in operation one year. Its object is through a systematic and organized movement, to provide for the relief of want and destitution in our midst. Its officers consist of a President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer, an Advisory Committee of five persons, and a Visiting Committee of three persons from each ward of the city. An initiation fee of $2 and a monthly fee of 25 cents constitutes a member. Any one may become a member by the payment of $10. The names of Advisory Committee are as follows:

MRS. DE HART, MRS. E. AINSWORTH,
MRS. WADHAMS, MRS. MASTERS,
MRS. MANN.

The poor may apply to either of these persons for assistance.

TEETH EXTRACTED
AND PAIN MITIGATED
By Dr. Richardson's Apparatus, Lately Improved by Dr. Koehler, with Ether Spray.

WILLIAM KOEHLER,
DENTIST.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE—Southwest corner Front and Yamhill Streets, opposite E. J. Northrup & Co's Hardware Store.

I am now making, amongst numerous other styles of ARTIFICIAL TEETH, the improved Vulcanite Plates of Dr. G. W. Cool's Patent, patented Dec. 3, 1867, the improvement of which consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold; it not only makes the plate double as strong and cleanlier than the common Vulcanite Plate. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter, whereas the price is but little above that for common plates. Call and see specimens.

N. B.—Dentists wishing to secure the office right for Dr. G. W. Cool's Improved Vulcanite Plates can have it made out to them by applying to this office.

N. B.—To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last five years in this city, will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the office.

A THRILLING INCIDENT.

In the mission life of Mrs. Ingalls, in Burmah, is well told in the "Baptist Messenger," relating how she was sent for to visit one of the Buddhist high priests, who had been nearly killed, and how, while in the most holy place in their temple, where none but the priests had ever before been admitted, she was permitted unrebuked to use for him the sacred vessels which none but the high priest dare touch, and to even overturn and sit on one of their gods to rest, all through the magic influence of the Pain Killer, called by them "the Good medicine," so successfully had she used it in curing their many diseases, some of them considered heretofore fatal in that climate, among which were cholera, liver complaint, dyspepsia, the bites of serpents, etc., &c. This speaks volumes for the Pain Killer. [illegible]

Rev. J. E. Clough, Missionary at Ong[illegible], Southern India, writes: "We esteem your Pain Killer very highly for scorpion stings, cholera, &c., and cannot very well get along without it."

Rev. E. B. Cullom, Missionary at Tavoy, Burmah, writes: "I shall be happy to assist in extending a knowledge of a remedy so speedy and effectual." mldawlm

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels;
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.
SOLD EVERYWHERE.

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 635 AND 637 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which com[illegible] here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior products as for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Horace on Farming

Horace Greeley in the latest number of his Recollections of a Busy Life, refers to his farming experience. We make a few extracts:

The woods are my special department. When ever I can save a day, or a half day for the woods, I [illegible] give a good part of it to my [illegible] forest. The ax is the healthiest implement [illegible] ... the sedentary workers who [illegible] throws back, expanding the chest, and [illegible] their lungs. If every youth had from fifteen to fifty years old, could wield an ax two hours [illegible] day, dyspepsia would rarely be heard [illegible] rheumatism become decidedly rare [illegible] ... yet the ax is my doctor [illegible] light. Its use [illegible] the mind just enough [illegible] ration to prevent its falling [illegible] soothing train of thought while every muscle in the body receives sufficient yet not exhausting exercise. I wish all our boys would learn to love the ax.

If I linger proudly among my trees consider that here most of my farm work has been done and here my profit has been realized in the shade of "graft and vigor." When asked the usual question, How has your farming paid? I can truthfully answer that my part [illegible] has paid, [illegible] taking all income and an outgo—and who can show a better balance sheet [illegible].

My cha[illegible] is not much—small, slight and wooden, and has at length been almost [illegible] for one [illegible] purchased and removed to the edge of the village, just where my [illegible] emerges from the farm [illegible] its way to the station; but the cottage in the woods is [illegible] house where my books remain, where I mean [illegible] my treasures, and wherein I [illegible] to [illegible] home to my friends at stated seasons, and unto [illegible] one when I address myself to work and especially to the consummation of a yet [illegible] literary project. [illegible] are dreams which opportunity may never be afforded [illegible] ... I am a horse in a bark mill who treads his monotonous round never finding time to do to-day what can be possibly postponed to the morrow.

"You will be sick of living in the country within two years," I was confidently told when I bought, "and your place will be advertised for sale." "Then the sheriff's name will be at the foot of the advertisement," I responded. The more fact that I am not yet sick of it proves nothing, since I only try to spend Saturdays [illegible] and I am often unable to do even that, but my wife who spends most of each year there, and has done so ever since it was bought, is equally constant in her devotion; and the bare idea of exchanging [illegible] for any other, has never yet suggested itself to either of us. With a first rate [illegible] to shut out the cold I doubt if either of us from choice would live elsewhere, even in winter.

"But what of the profit of your farming? You have said nothing of them, I often hear. Well, it is not yet time to speak of them—in fact they are as yet unspeakably small. Thus far, I have been making a farm rather than working one, and the process is not yet complete. The first apple trees of my planting are just beginning to bear; my best land, having been recently bought and not yet thoroughly drained, is not yet productive. Nor do I expect that farming—or anything else—will pay without better oversight than I have yet [illegible] to afford it."

"Do you not perceive," said one near me "that your farm there does not more than half work?" "Certainly," I replied. I am quite aware of it. Were he disposed to be efficient he would work his own land, not mine. You can scarcely hire any work well done to which you cannot give personal attention. Publishing newspapers by proxy would be still more ruinous than farming.

[illegible] a confident assertion that good farming will pay—yes, does pay—right here in New York [illegible] and pays well. Of course, he who lacks capital must work [illegible] ... further in the Far West than on the seaboard; but I feel certain that even I could make money by farming in West chester county, if I could give my time and mind to it, and that a good farmer with adequate [illegible] near this city as a reasonable man could [illegible], or wisely desire.

ORIGIN OF VEGETABLES.—Garlic came from Sicily, where, for my part I wish it had stayed. Beans [illegible] first within sight of embryo mummies, in the land of the sphinx, and the egg plant first laid its glossy treasures under the Afric sun, and Southern Europe first gave us the artichoke and the beet. To Persia we stand indebted for peaches, walnuts, mulberries and a score of [illegible] luxuries and [illegible] to Arabia we owe the cultivation of spinage, and to Southern Europe we must bow in tearful gratitude for the horse-radish. At Siberia the victims of modern intemperance may shake their gory locks [illegible] from that cold, unsocial land came [illegible] father of that great fire water river which floated so many jolly souls on its treacherous tide, and engulphed so much of humanity's treasure. The chestnut, dear to squirrels and young America, first dropped its burrs on Italian soil. Who ever dreams, while enjoying his Bargamotte, his Flemish Beauty, or his Jargonelle that the first pear blossoms opened within sight of the Pyramids, and what fair school girl of the pickle eating tribe, dreams of thanking the East Indies for her cucumbers?

Parsley, that prettiest of all pretty greens, taking so naturally to our American soil that it seems [illegible] to the manor born, is only a sojourner [illegible] ... with civilized man. Onions, too, are only naturalized foreigners in America. I had hoped, in poetic justice, [illegible] would have proved this pathetic bulb to have sprung from the land of Niobe, but no; Egypt stretches forth her withered hand and claims the [illegible] as her own! Maize and potatoes, thank Heaven I can't knock us with no foreign pedigree. They are ours—ours to command, to have and to hold, from time's beginning to its [illegible] and Ireland bluster over corn, and praties till they are hoarse.

THE [illegible] OF RATTLESNAKES.—Dr. S. W. Mitchell, of Philadelphia, has just completed a second [illegible] series of experiments upon the [illegible] of the [illegible] snake. The principal [illegible] ... 1st. [illegible] ... 2d. [illegible] ... This innocuous result is due to the fact that the poison is incapable of passing through the mucous surface, as well as that it is so altered during digestion as to enter the blood as a harmless substance. 3d. The poison is not injurious to the rattlesnake itself, or to any other of its species.

This confirms the conclusions of Guyon corroborating also the testimony of Charles Water, ton [illegible] a very venomous South American [illegible] without injurious results to it. It is to be regretted that Dr. Mitchell pronounces against the utility of any external remedy after a careful discussion of those most generally accepted. For the best treatment of a case of serpent poison we must refer to his memoir, merely remarking that he [illegible] considerable value to alcoholic stimulants, especially where the patient was not intoxicated at the time of being bitten.

SUMMARILY PUT OFF.—One day as conductor Jones was running from Elmira on the Erie road, he found among other passengers, a boy who had no money, who told him he was poor and alone in the world, and wanted to go out West where he thought he could do better than he could at the East.

The conductor, of course, told him that he could not ride unless he paid his fare, and said he "when we arrive at the next station, Corning you must get off."

The boy promised that he would do so. On his passage through the cars after leaving Corning the conductor came across the boy again.

"Did I not tell you to get off at Corning?"

"Yes sir," said the boy, "and I did get off but I got on again."

"Well, sir," said the conductor, "when we get to the next station I want you to get off and stay off."

Again the boy promised, but shortly after leaving the station who should the conductor find but the boy.

"See here, sir, I thought I told you to get off and stay off."

The boy acknowledged that the conductor told him so. "And," said the boy, "I did get off and was going to stay off, but just as the train was starting you said 'All aboard,' and I thought you meant me as much as anybody."

It is perhaps needless to say that the conductor acknowledged himself beaten, and gave [illegible] free ride [illegible] the end of his route.

A grandson of Israel Putnam, of revolutionary fame has a large gang of men at work near [illegible] Connecticut digging for the snug little amount of $[illegible] which the spirit of Benjamin Franklin tells him was burried there in the shape of gold bars and precious stones a number of years ago by Spanish pirates.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND May 1[illegible] 1868.

The latest New York quotation of gold is May 13th [illegible] Legal Tenders at San Francisco [illegible].

The New York breadstuffs market is a little town [illegible] ... weak at $1 [illegible].

[illegible] market [illegible] ... the present time, however shipments have been con[illegible] ... The last year's crop is now, however [illegible] ... The remaining [illegible] forward before harvest, is probably not greater than 10,000 bbls [illegible] ... This is the estimate [illegible] produce firm of this city, based on intelligence [illegible] several supply points in the District. The S. F. Commercial Herald [illegible] knowledges the receipt from Oregon since January 1st [illegible] bbls flour and [illegible] wheat, 68,315 centals and [illegible] ... the latest Oregon papers at hand assure [illegible] of the crop of 1867 has yet [illegible] the rivers seeking a market. The Herald has [illegible] ... represented that about three fourths of the [illegible] ... have stated [illegible] that the [illegible] ... comparatively light.

The following from the Commercial Herald shows [illegible] of Oregon at the present [illegible] San Francisco market:

By reference to [illegible] of the market on exhibit it will be seen that the present decline in flour is very [illegible] per barrel from the highest rates of the current year, Oregon selling at $5 [illegible] extra and [illegible] per bbl, though for Imperial Mills, [illegible] other Eastern [illegible] ... We however [illegible] ... that several Oregon millers are [illegible] the X X X [illegible] New York brand [illegible] ... better [illegible] ... this [illegible] stage of the season [illegible] ... mills are idle, not being able to [illegible] ... Oregon.

The [illegible] and [illegible] market is very quiet as is usual at this season of the year. The summer trade will [illegible], very soon set in when a marked [illegible] ... may be confidently expected. We find very few changes in our quotations. We have but late [illegible] ... the upper Columbia, though the [illegible] understanding seems to be that trade is declining [illegible] ... throughout the season, in consequence of the [illegible] scarcity of water in the [illegible].

INSTITUTE.

⁂ CONSULTATION IN ALL CASES FREE

⁂ CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED

⁂ IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of his Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and honor give assurance of proper delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in need, to the invariable success that has marked the career of his Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this section to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.
